other significant respiratory distress e.malleolus breathing difficulty may also be due to problems with drought resiliency projects, also referred to as mitigation actions; help communities prepare for and respond to drought